

MAKING INTEGRATIONS

Science and Math, Social Science, Language Arts—K-8

Looking for ways to put science in your curriculum in a climate that emphasizes reading and arithmetic?

Making Integrations: Science and Math, Social Science, Language Arts—K-8, the companion book to CSTA's popular Making Connections, contains 27 content standard tables highlighting integration possibilities for science, history/social science, mathematics, and language arts for grades K-8.

Get an honest look at where integration works and doesn't work, and acquire strategies for making wise decisions about what is appropriate for your students.
